Testimonial – Inácio Manuel Junqueira

Living at University of Nyíregyháza's campus dormitory has been a great experience. From the moment I moved in, I felt welcomed and at home. The rooms are comfortable and well-equipped, providing everything I needed to focus on my studies and relax after a long day. The convenience of being just a short walk away from my classes, the library, and the student center has made my university life so much easier. Overall, it's not just a place to stay: it's a place to grow, learn, and connect. My university journey could not have been complete without the support and convenience of campus accommodation.

Why Hungary?

Hungary is a small, but exceptionally beautiful country in the heart of Europe in the curdle of the Carpathian Basin, from where every other popular European tourist destination are easily accessible.

The country is most famous for, other than the many internationally recognized scientist, researchers and Noble-prize winners whom are all testaments to the Hungarian education system, its natural waters like the Danube and Tisza rivers which offer several sport activities to those who love spending their free time in nature. Or Lake Balaton which is the largest lake in Middle-Europe and an internationally liked tourist destination in all seasons, especially in the summer.

Those who like natural thermal waters will also find Hungary to be a real gem to visit, since the country has many famous bath houses and even whole cities, like Hévíz, built on these thermal springs.

Despite the many advantages of Hungary, it remains relatively affordable compared to its neighbours and other European countries.

“The gym facility at the university has greatly improved my view of the school. As a Computer Science student with very little free time, staying fit can be difficult. But having a gym just four minutes from my dorm makes it much easier for me to take care of my physical, mental, and emotional health. I'm really impressed by this gesture, as it shows how much the university cares about its students. This is just one of the benefits of being a student here. The gym is equipped with modern locker rooms and is very spacious, offering a wide range of high-quality equipment. Whether you love working out like I do, or just go occasionally, the university has a well-equipped gym facility for you, and it's completely free to use.” – Collins C.
